

95 Aniversario del

Instituto Panamericano de Geografía e Historia

A photograph of the Palacio Sede, a historic building in Mexico City. The building features a prominent arched window with a red frame and a balcony below it. The facade is made of dark stone or brick. A flagpole with a blue flag is visible on the roof. The building is surrounded by lush green trees. The sky is overcast with grey clouds.

95th Anniversary of PAIGH

The celebration of 95 years of the Pan-American Institute of Geography and History took place at the Palacio Sede in Mexico City, Mexico on February 7, 2023.

95th Anniversary of PAIGH

During the ceremony, the Wall of Presidents was updated with President Patricia Solís' photo.

95th Anniversary of PAIGH

Additionally, a new wall was inaugurated, titled “Female Authorities of PAIGH”.

Dr. Patricia Galeana, President Patricia Solís, and Dr. Elsa Leticia Flores Márquez cut the ribbon and opened the room where the new wall is now displayed.

Representatives of the USNS of PAIGH

Two women from the United States National Section were included in the wall of women:

Jean Parcher Wintemute,
President of the Geography
Commission 2013-2017,
Vice-President of the
Geography Commission
2017-2021

Patricia Solís, Vice-President of the Geography Commission
2013-2017; President of the
Geography Commission, 2017-
2021, and President of the
PAIGH, 2022-2025

The commemorative plaque for the 95th
Anniversary was revealed.

95th Anniversary of PAIGH

- The historical archive “Eng. Pedro Celestino Sánchez” was opened, where historical documentation of the Pan-American community are preserved.
- The commemorative plaque of inauguration of the historical archive was unveiled by Dr. Patricia Galeana.

95th Anniversary of PAIGH

New paintings in the Gallery of Historians and Geographers were presented.

95th Anniversary of PAIGH

Statement on the website:

“With the celebration of the 95th Anniversary of its creation, the PAIGH renews its impetus to fulfill its mission and endorses its spirit of service to the Pan American community and the world, to fulfill the objectives that it has proposed since its foundation, in order to contribute to the peace and development of nations through science.”